

Noah's Ark

Noah was a good man, but he was the only one who was listening to God, so God decided to flood the earth and rebuild it.

God told Noah he should build a big boat called an ark, and bring his family and many animals into it, to hide from the rain.

Noah built the ark, and then lived there until the rain stopped. God promised he would never destroy the earth again.

